Hi Kelsey,

Following discussion with our client I confirm he will follow your authorities guidance in relation to the existing and proposed panelling.

- The existing panelled partition will be retained in situ including where it will appear inside of the En Suite. This part will be painted as protection from moisture.
- The new stud wall will be clad with panelling of a similar width to the boards on the original partition.

Please could you let me know a likely timescale for the Decision Notice.

Thank you for your assistance with this.

Kind regards
Neil
