Hi Kelsey,
Following further liaison we have amended the scheme.
It is still a single Unit but a lot more open plan.

The sleeping areas are sat within the end Bays created by the trusses and a 3rd bay houses a shower room.
All trusses remain intact and are left visible.
Walls to the shower room and guarding to the bedrooms sit inside of the truss line.
The Bay abutting the Entrance is fully open to the underside of the roof.

The previous details noted such as a separate internal timber frame etc are still applicable.

I trust these details are more acceptable but please let me know should you have any queries.
Kind regards
Neil
