Hi Andrew

I made my comments based on the proposed reduction in glazing so I do still have concerns about potential light spill. Blinds are the only real option but as you know they can be forgotten.

I also found it unusual for an extension to have no proposed external lighting but guess this is covered with a condition anyway.

Thanks
Mike

Hi Andrew

With reference to the telephone call mentioned and 'the removal of 80% of glass', is the extension replacing an existing conservatory?

If that's the case, subject to comments from our Ecology team and on the basis there are no external lights to be fitted, I feel that the measures proposed are acceptable from a Dark Skies perspective. We just need to be sure they're okay from an ecology/landscape impact perspective.

Regards
Mike
