What a fantastic idea, re-creating past Heritage. Why doesn't someone follow this initiative and re-create the Sea Urchin stall in a similar vein ?

Yes there will be a host of objections citing " yet another cafe" BUT this follows history (understanding that it cant be on the exact location) unlike some of the existing commercial enterprises in the village.

So long as it follows strict planning rules then I support the application.

I agree 100% with another comment where the village needs expanded parking to cope with its popularity.
