FAO; Mrs A Teasdale

The timescale, no doubt to meet targets set by the government, means that Aislaby parish council appear unable to consider and discuss the above submission and forward any comments before the due date.

Perhaps thought could be given in the future to a more flexible approach to timescales either by accepting late submissions or a less rigid approach by the parish councils when considering planning matters. I know that this was possible in the past by the clerk, in consultation with the chairman, adding an addendum to the agenda or speaking to the planning officer.

You will no doubt be aware that a simple no comment submission from the parish council by the due date may not highlight the fact that no consultation had taken place.

Jim Storey
