In response to your letter dated 1st March '19:

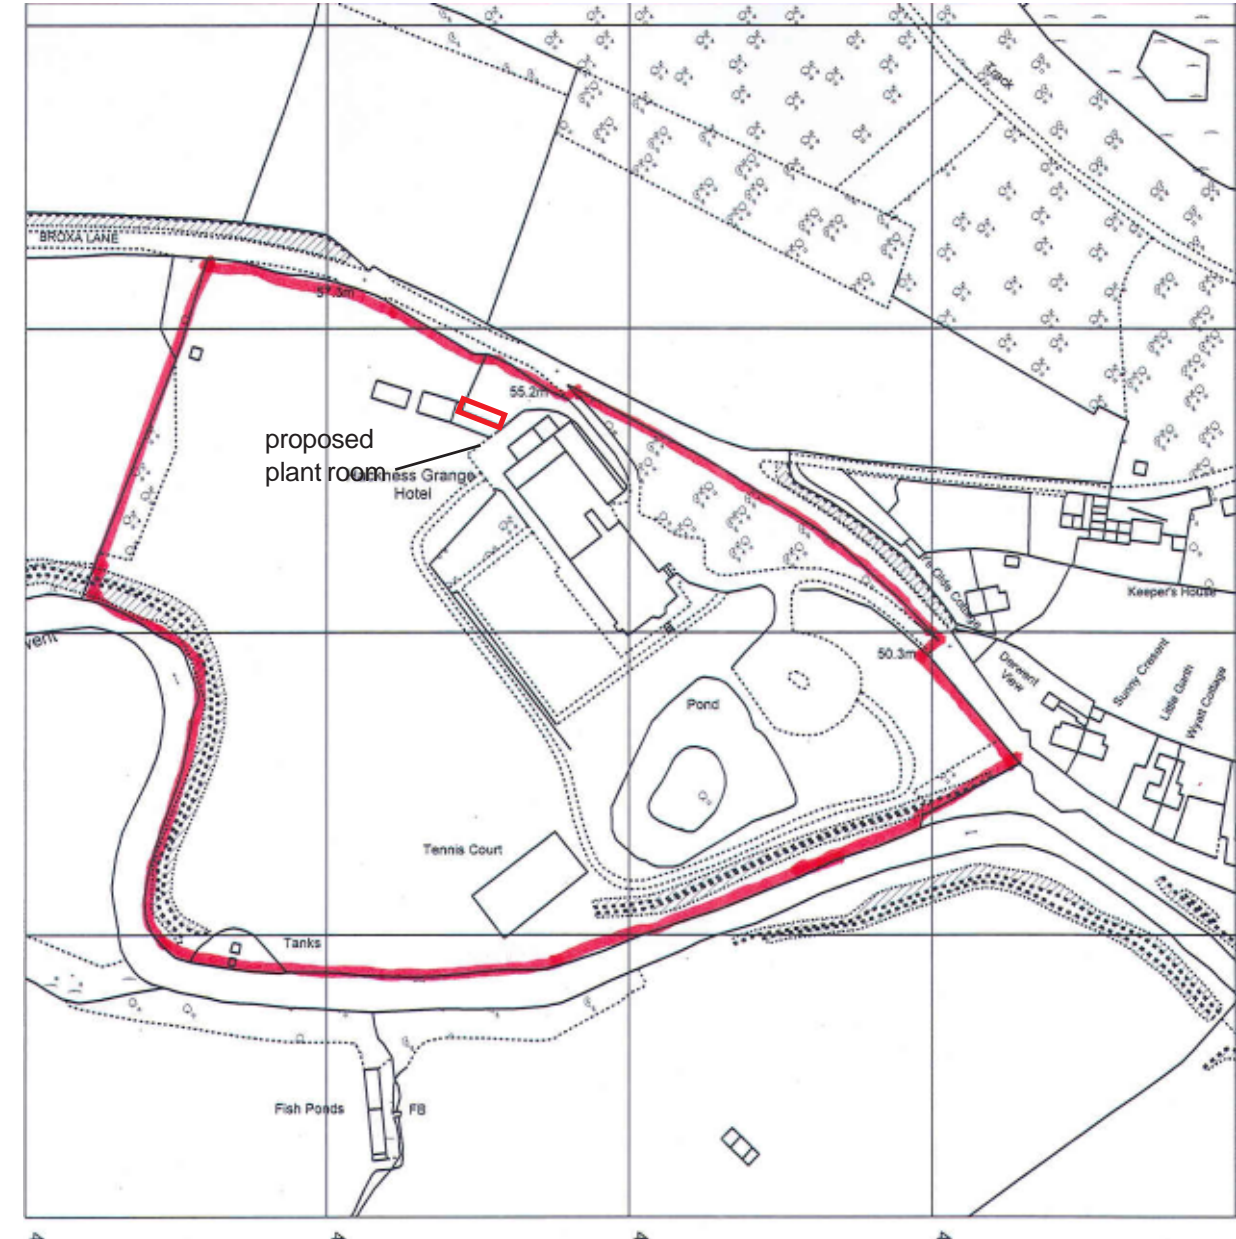

1. I don't know how or why the position of the proposed plan room moved itself on the location plan – I have corrected this on the attached drawing and hope it stays put this time!
2. The plant room is a rectangular timber clad box and I showed two elevations and put notes on to the effect that the other sides are virtually identical except for doors (or no doors) – do I really have to draw the other two?
