I would like to support this application as I have before. It will open the possibility of visits to the area for a day trip, which is impossible by car. It also allows for convenient short visits to the nearby B&B.

I live in an AONB which has a number of airfields which enhance the facilities in the area and are popular with people who watch aeroplanes as well as those that fly them. We see many families on a sunny summer's day.

It is well known that airfields, especially grass ones, are havens for wildlife, birds, animals and insects because of the ways in which they are managed. I regularly come across a wide range of birds including raptors, scavengers and song birds. When taxiing it is quite usual to see hares who find agricultural land difficult. In fact hares are common even at such fields as White Waltham near densely populated Maidenhead in Berkshire.

I have no doubt that South Farm will be an asset to the area
