DearSirs,

I write in support of the proposed airstrip outlined in the above application.

Government policy is to support general aviation which is being gradually eroded by the widespread loss of airfields for redevelopment to the detriment of transport infrastructure generally, whilst at the same time new planning applications face incredible difficulties due too misunderstood preconceptions of "another Heathrow," whereas in fact small airfields of this nature benefit the economy, have minimal impact on the local environment, being largely undeveloped natural spaces in which wildlife and flora readily thrive, often more so than alternative previous or future potential uses.

We urgently need more airfields, and initiatives of this nature should be full supported.

Yours faithfully

Mike Goodman
