Hi Rob

My main concerns relate to the potential impacts on water quality and quantity, but the Environment Agency and Natural England have specialists better able to assess these than I am. I note that an EA response has been received in which they have no objections, but nothing from NE so far. Once it is, I'll hope to get back to you with any comments from me.

My other principal area of interest is Condition 52, the Protected Species Management Plans. I understand that all the Phase 3 reports remain applicable; my earlier comments (27/6/17) on them remain applicable too.

Thanks, Rona
