We are next door neighbours to Coverdale Scaffolding, we have no issue with Coverdale Scaffolding erecting a building on their site if it is solely for their use. We would have an issue if the unit was being built for the purpose of some one renting the unit, our reason for this is Coverdale Scaffolding has a right of way across our yard and I do not wish this to be opened up to more people using it and abusing the right of way. We would also like to raise the point that if a building was being erected on the site that we are kept fully informed of tradesmen using the right of access for our insurance and health and safety purposes at all times.
