Jill

Mark Newby is on leave this week, and asked that in his absence, I forward an amended drawing for The Hermitage in Claughton. This shows the parking bay removed from the bottom of the drive and a new storage building constructed at the top of the drive. We have suggested that this be built in rubble stone and would be built into the bank as indicated. It then provides useful storage space close to the house and screens the parking area between store and house.

Can you please advise if you think this is an acceptable amendment.

Whilst Mark is away, he will pick up e mails from time to time.
