Dear Ms Saunders,

Objection to revised planning application NYM/2018/0094/FL

We wish to lodge a formal objection to the revised planning application NYM/2018/0094/FL on the following grounds:

General

The revised planning application and subsequent clarification/correction dated 17th April have addressed some of the concerns raised in our original objection in that the applicant has relocated the access path to be further from the village houses and has undertaken to block the track that would otherwise lead from the sculpture along the back of nos. 5-10. We welcome this revision, but it fails to address the most serious concerns about additional visitor numbers, car parking and traffic safety, none of which have been properly assessed by the applicant, plus the fact that the applicant has not assessed possible alternative locations for the sculpture which, we contend, is totally out of character with the appearance of the village as it now stands.

Since we submitted our original objection letter, the applicant called an informal consultation meeting with the village residents at which it was promised that the artist would be contacted and asked whether the sculpture could be relocated. Unfortunately we have received a communication from the applicant which states that they have not contacted the artist as they promised to do. The communication from the applicant also states that they will move the Gruffalo sculpture away from the Ellerburn trail and look into the other issues raised by the village residents. The Gruffalo sculpture is no longer the main attraction for visitors on the Ellerburn Trail. The main attraction is now the interactive trail based on other characters from Julia Donaldson and Axel Scheffler books (currently the Highway Rat). The theme of the trail is changed regularly, presumably to maintain visitor numbers, so moving the Gruffalo would have little effect on footfall through the village. Frankly, we have no confidence in the applicant actually carrying out any non-binding commitment that they make in connection with the planning process. When the new visitor centre was constructed the village residents were assured that there would be no further development to the south of the village in order to avoid disturbance. After this the Ellerburn Trail, which is now attracting tens of thousands of visitors through the village was constructed. If the applicant is to offer to mitigate the impact of the application by reducing the footfall through the village by other means we would like to see this as an enforceable condition in the planning permission with a clear delivery date as we have no confidence in the applicant actually carrying out any non-binding commitment.

The most recent communication from the applicant corrects a number of errors in the original supporting documentation that we pointed out in our earlier letter of objection. In supporting the case for the proposed location of the sculpture, the applicant now relies on the link between the founding of the Forestry Commission and the end of WW1 and the fact that Nissen Huts were set up to house workers to plant the forests. This is undoubtedly true, but they were not located in Dalby until 1934, as the applicant now admits. It would, therefore, be more appropriate in the context of the link to WW1 for this sculpture to be located elsewhere on the Forestry Estate, where there were actually Nissen Huts set up following WW1. In our view there is no credible rationale for choosing Dalby Forest as a site for this sculpture ahead of many other locations which would not impact on the lives of nearby residents.

We can also find no evidence, either in the standard reference work on the area (Dalby Valley of Change by Rushton and Walker) or from extensive searches, that the Nissen huts housed WW2 prisoners of war as claimed by the applicant. Despite the 1940's still being in living memory there is also no local tradition of the Nissen huts housing prisoners of war, which surely would be remembered locally if it had been the case.

The rationale for having to locate the sculpture in Dalby Forest or close to Dalby Village as part of the 1914-18 centenary celebration is, therefore, spurious and is shown to be so by the applicant's correction to the errors in the original supporting documentation. We contend that the applicant can, and should, look to locate the sculpture elsewhere, which would also serve to establish a genuine relevance to the 1914-18 celebrations. We raised these issues with the applicant at the recent consultation meeting to make them aware of the errors in their planning submission, hence, we assume, the recent corrections, but they have declined to approach the artist about these issues and have failed to consider possible alternative locations, either within Dalby or elsewhere in the Forestry estate.

The applicant's communication dated 17th April also goes into some length about the track record of the artist commissioned to create the sculpture. We contend that this is not relevant at all to the planning process, other than to suggest that if she is as well regarded as the applicant claims, then the numbers of visitors coming to see the sculpture are likely to be large further increasing the disturbance, traffic problems and loss of privacy in the village.

In the absence of any further communication or credible offers of mitigation from the applicant, we are left with no option other than to sustain our objection on the grounds laid out below.

1 Appropriateness of the development for the local area.

The National Park's Planning Development Policy section 3: Design states inter alia that applications may be approved if The siting, orientation, layout and density preserves or enhances views into and out of the site, spaces about and between buildings and other features that contribute to the character and quality of the environment’; and ‘The scale, height, massing, proportion, form, size, materials and design features of the proposal are compatible with surrounding buildings’.

We contend that this development, involving the construction of a copy of a grey Nissen Hut approximately 10m long by 3m high, is not consistent with the character of the local area. We can find no reference in the National Park planning guidance concerning sculptures or other works of art, but since this installation is a direct copy of a building in size, shape and colour, we believe that it should be considered as a building in the absence of any other guidance.

Whilst Nissen Huts were obviously a feature of the forest in its early days, they have not been present in the village for many years, and when we purchased our property from the Forestry Commission, we (and all of the other property owners) were required to sign a covenant imposing a variety of restrictions, including the frequency and colour of the painting of our property order to ‘preserve the character of the village, which is somewhat unique’. That character, identical white-painted houses clustered around a village green, which we are required to preserve, does not involve Nissen Huts or similar buildings. Were we to apply for permission to erect a 10m long, 3m high grey Nissen Hut in our back garden it would, in all likelihood, be refused because of its impact on the character of the village and inappropriateness of design and materials. We submit that the same standard should be applied to this application and that it should be refused.

2 Unacceptable increase in Disturbance

The National Park Planning Core Policy A: Delivering National Park Purposes and Sustainable Development states inter alia that priority will be given to applications that ‘Provide a scale of development and level of activity that will not have an unacceptable impact on the wider landscape or the quiet enjoyment, peace and tranquillity of the National Park, nor detract from the quality of life of local residents or the experience of visitors.’

Development Policy 14: Tourism and Recreation states inter alia that New tourism development and the expansion or diversification of existing tourism businesses will be supported where: The development will not generate an increased level of activity, including noise, which would be likely to detract from the experience of visitors and the quality of life of local residents.

The development of the Ellerburn Trail and its subsequent use as a children’s attraction using the Gruffalo and other fictional characters to attract more visitors has already had a huge impact on the residents of Dalby Village, especially those in nos. 1,2,7,8,9 and 10 whose properties front onto the access route from the visitor car parks to the start of the trail. Information provided to us by the Forestry Commission shows that around 70,000 people used the Ellerburn trail in the past 12 months. Given that visitors need to pass through the village in both directions to access the trail from the car parks, this equates to a footfall of 140,000 per year. This footfall is not evenly distributed and is heavily biased towards weekends and school holidays when the stream of people passing the front of the houses in the village can be continuous. The impact of 140,000 people in terms of noise, loose dogs, excited toddlers and general intrusion means that nobody uses their front gardens in the village any more, and the resident's car parks are frequently blocked with visitors cars, despite the signage recently erected by the Forestry Commission. This is already, in our view, an unacceptable level of intrusion that detracts from our quality of life and, indeed, probably detracts from the experience of visitors on crowded days.

The applicants have already stated in meetings with village representatives, and in the supporting documents to their application, that the development they propose will attract more visitors through the village, so the noise, disturbance and intrusion, which is already unacceptable, will only get worse. The new installation will further impact the village in that many of those coming to see it will remain close to the village to admire the sculpture rather than moving on further down the trail as happens at present. We contend that this development will exacerbate and already unacceptable situation and further detract from the quality of life of the village residents and the application should therefore be rejected.

3 Traffic safety

The National Park's Development Policy 3: Design states inter alia that designs are likely to be acceptable if: The design takes account of the safety, security and access needs for all potential users of the development and provides car parking provision in line with the standards adopted by the Authority.

Village residents, Forestry Commission staff, those accessing the fishing lakes near Paper Mill Farm, timber haulage lorries and others with legitimate business in the forest, as well as visitors (who frequently ignore the no-entry signs in attempting to drive through the village to the Ellerburn Trail), all drive along the access road that will lead to the sculpture. In addition, large numbers of cyclists also use this road to access the forest resulting in congestion and confusion when the trail is at its busiest. Residents leaving the designated car parking areas or accessing their garages run a gauntlet of loose toddlers, loose dogs erratic cyclists and inattentive pedestrians on a daily basis. The proposed development will only serve to make this situation worse and there has been no provision made in the application for dealing with the additional footfall and traffic that the new installation would attract if it were permitted. We contend that the design makes no provision for the safety security and access needs of the potential users of the development and should be rejected.

Yours Sincerely,

Dr John R. and Mrs V. Allan

CHOICE OF ELECTION CANDIDATE

Socialists and Hemsworth.

From Our Own Correspondent.
HEMSWORTH, Saturday.
 The executive of the Hemsworth Divisional Labour party, at a meeting at Hemsworth tonight, are informed officially that the executive of the National Labour party has decided that they would not suggest the name of an outside candidate to contest the division at the by-election necessitated by the death of Mr. Gabriel Price.

This decision rules out the possibility that an ex-Socialist Member who figured conspicuously in the last Government might be invited to contest the division.

The divisional executive decided that all recommendations of possible candidates from organisations affiliated to the National Labour party should be sent to the divisional secretary, Mr. G. A. Griffiths, not later than April 26, and that the final selection conference should be held on May 5.

SUGGESTED CHOICES.
 The Yorkshire Mineworkers' Association will be an important factor in the final deliberations. On the Parliamentary panel of the Association, Mr. G. A. Griffiths is the only man who lives in the division, and he is suggested in many quarters as the most likely prospective Socialist candidate.

Mr. Griffiths has been secretary and organiser for the Divisional Labour party since the constituency was created. He is prominently associated with the Yorkshire Mineworkers' Association, and is a member of the Roston Urban Council and of the West Riding County Council.

Another name mentioned is that of County Councillor Absalom Flavell, of South Kirkby, a well-known public man. Mr. Flavell is a miner at the south Kirkby Colliery.

The selection of Mr. H. N. Penlington, of Hemsworth, ex-president of the National Union of Teachers, as prospective Socialist candidate, is advocated in some quarters. Mr. Penlington is the head master of South Road, Council School, Hemsworth, and chairman of the Hemsworth Urban Council.

CONSERVATIVE POSITION.
 The prospect of an I.L.P. candidate entering the lists is not worrying the Divisional Labour party.

Some doubt exists whether the Conservative party will run a candidate. It was understood that the party would concede a seat to a Socialist candidate unless they could secure a purely local nominee, which was unlikely, but since the announcement concerning the proposals of the I.L.P. and a special meeting of the party is to be held this week to review the position.

CONFERENCE CONVENED.
 Meeting at Barnsley on Saturday, the executive of the Yorkshire Mineworkers' Association considered the Hemsworth vacancy. Mr. Herbert Smith, who presided, said the officials were instructed to convene a conference for adopting a candidate.

Steps to Check Municipal Corruption.

From Our London Staff.
FLEET STREET, Sunday.
 A circular drawing attention to the new law against corruption in the placing of local contracts has been issued to all the authorities by the Ministry of Health, on and after June 1, no municipal contract may be placed unless the council has adopted standing orders complying with the Local Government Act of last session.

Model standing orders have been drawn up by the Ministry, and every local authority receiving contracts must adopt these or equivalent orders embodying the provisions of the new Act.

A councillor who has a pecuniary interest in a firm or company concerned with a contract will not be allowed to speak or vote on it. Personal interest in a contract at present is a general disqualification from membership of a council. There is an exception in favour of shareholders, and this is a loophole for the "one man company."

The new Act abolishes the membership disqualification, and provides that a councillor who takes part in proceedings on a contract in which he has a monetary interest, or fails to make known his interest, may be fined a maximum of £50.

Milk for Schools: Suggested Precautions.

From Our London Staff.
FLEET STREET, Sunday.
 The danger of the spread from infected milk of tuberculosis, undulant fever, septic sore throat, and other diseases is emphasised in a report of a special committee of the Medical, Science and Veterinary Councils of the People's League of Health, urging the need for the supplying of pure milk to school children by educational and other authorities.

The following precautions are suggested:—

Pasteurised milk is recommended and should be labelled either Grade A Pasteurised or Pasteurised.

Ordinary milk should not be given raw to children, but should be rendered safe by boiling.

If raw milk is to be used it should be labelled either Certified or Grade A. T.T. (tuberculin tested).

Grade A milk is milk produced under clean conditions, though not from tuberculin tested cows, it cannot be recommended in the raw state.

GROWTH OF BACTERIA.
 The report points out that one reason why milk may be dangerous is that it is a good nutrient medium for the growth of bacteria, so that if it becomes infected the added organisms are liable to multiply and to cause outbreaks of disease.

There were not fewer than 4,000 fresh cases of tuberculosis of bovine origin occurring every year in England and Wales, and about 2,000 deaths.

As to undulant fever, there were about 500 fresh cases each year in England and Wales. The organism responsible for this was the same as that which caused contagious abortion in cattle.

At least twenty to thirty out of every hundred samples of raw milk can be shown to contain this organism, and we have to look to infected cattle and their milk as the source of the infection in man. It is stated.

APPEAL TO AUTHORITIES.
 Appealing to authorities to take the necessary steps to ensure cleanliness and purity of the milk supplied, the report states:—

"Surprising as it must appear, existing powers are ineffective to guard against these dangers. Such legal powers as exist are very limited in their scope, partial in their operation, and as regards the great bulk of disease spread by milk, essentially ineffective."

CANVASSER'S DEATH.
THREE MEN TO APPEAR ON A CHARGE OF MANSLAUGHTER.

Three men will appear at the City Court, Newcastle-on-Tyne, to-day, on a charge of manslaughter in connection with the death of Charles Haynes (35), a newspaper canvasser, whose home is at Grantham (Lincs.).

Haynes had been engaged in the Tyne-side area on behalf of a London newspaper. He was found unconscious at his lodgings yesterday, and died before a doctor arrived.

WHITBY RURAL RATE.
 Whitby Rural Council on Saturday approved a rate of 4s. 8d. in the pound, an increase of fourpence on the last half-year.

HARROGATE STARTS ITS CELEBRATIONS.

Freedom Ceremony To-day.

From Our Own Correspondent.
HARROGATE, Sunday.
TOMORROW, on the fiftieth anniversary of the first meeting of its Town Council, Harrogate will start on a series of celebrations lasting throughout the summer, to mark the jubilee of its incorporation as a borough.

In the municipally-owned Royal Hall tomorrow morning townspeople of Harrogate and visitors will gather to witness the conferment of the Freedom of the Borough on Alderman Richard Annakin, Alderman W. W. Scott, and the Town Clerk of Harrogate, Mr. J. Turner Taylor, in recognition of their eminent services to the town.

There are three living Honorary Freeman of Harrogate—Viscount Halifax, Earl Jellicoe, and Mr. Stanley Baldwin.

The monthly meeting of the Town Council will follow the Freedom ceremony in the afternoon, and at night there will be a public jubilee dinner at the Hotel Majestic.

As the town is unable to call on the rates to meet the cost of its celebrations, all but a few special guests have paid for their tickets for the dinner. This has given rise to some discontent, and there are some who feel that they have been debarred from taking part in the event on the score of cost. Tickets are 10s. 6d. each.

ANOTHER DINNER.
 To meet this situation, the Harrogate and District Labour party have arranged another dinner at the Oxford Hotel, at a cost of 3s. 6d. Mr. H. Hesselwood, a member of the party, has been invited to represent the Town Council, said yesterday that this was in no way intended as an opposition function to the official dinner, but was to give people an opportunity of attending some celebration at a reasonable figure.

He added that the Labour party would take advantage of the occasion to make a presentation of a clock to ex-alderman E. C. Broadbank, whom, after 19 years on the Town Council, they regarded as worthy of the Freedom of the Borough.

The Mayor (Mr. J. E. Newcome), the only other member of the Labour party on the Council, will be present at the Hotel Majestic.

FLOWER SHOW PLANS.
 Harrogate is also busy preparing for what is planned to be the first of a new series of annual attractions to visitors—a monster flower show in the Valley Gardens on September 5, 6, and 7.

The venture was first suggested as a suitable addition to the celebrations during the jubilee year, but in view of the offer of the North of England Horticultural Society to assist by merging with it their autumn show, the Town Council have decided to introduce it as an annual event, with a view of giving a fillip to the end of the summer season.

BUSY AT BLACKPOOL.
HOLIDAY CROWDS ENJOY A DAY OF BRILLIANT SUNSHINE.

From Our Own Correspondent.
BLACKPOOL, Sunday.
 The sight of jugs of tea and viands provided for trippers to Blackpool sands this afternoon gave the resort a holiday air similar to that of midsummer.

There was an exceptionally large influx of visitors by road and rail, who found a blue sky, brilliant sunshine, and a calm, sparkling sea greatly to their liking. The promenade was crowded from end to end. Motor-parking spaces in all parts of the town were busy until nightfall. The large and merry parties took cafe staffs by surprise. Good business was done by stalls and side-shows on the Central Beach.

The genial conditions contrasted pleasantly with the white mantle of winter on the town yesterday.

BARNSELY SOLICITOR'S WEDDING.
 The wedding was solemnised at Cawthorne Church, near Barnsley, on Saturday, of Miss Marjorie Barker, only daughter of Mr. E. A. Barker (Borough Electrical Engineer, Barnsley), and Mrs. Barker, and Mr. Harold Fletcher Slack, fourth son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Slack, of Ferrybridge, East Yorkshire.

The bridegroom is a Barnsley solicitor, in captain of the local Rugby Union football club.

The bride wore a gown of parchment velvet, with tulle veil held by a coronet of orange blossom. Her bouquet was composed of freesias.

VOLUNTEERS FOR NEW YORKSHIRE CENTRE.

WORKLESS ANXIOUS FOR TRAINING.

By Joe Illingworth.
THORNTON-LE-DALE, Saturday.
I UNDERSTAND that already fifty unemployed men have expressed their anxiety to be given three months' training at the instructional centre which is to be opened by the Ministry of Labour at Low Dalby, near Thornton-le-Dale, next Thursday.

Volunteers will be interviewed by a selection panel through the Divisional Office of the Ministry at Leeds.

I learn that in addition to this all-the-year-round camp, with its accommodation for 200 men, the possibility of establishing a summer camp in the neighbourhood for a further 350 is being considered.

Unlike the permanent camp now rapidly nearing completion, these summer camps would be of canvas. In all other respects they would be identical with the permanent camp.

The training of the unemployed men will receive at Low Dalby will have a practical value, for it is claimed that at the end of the three months course they will be well qualified to take jobs on public construction works.

PRACTICAL AND THEORETICAL.
 Quarry work, road work, land survey and levelling, the construction of culverts, and the laying down of drainage schemes will form part of their instruction. Many of the indoor and outdoor educational classes which they will attend will be so designed that

"SILENT" EXPLOSION SHAKES TOWN.
MEN INJURED BY BURSTING OF AIR CYLINDER.

From Our Correspondent.
AMBLESIDE, Sunday.
 The bursting of an air cylinder in a garage yesterday shook Ambleside, but was not heard by people standing a few yards away in the garage.

An employee was painting the back of a motor van, and Mr. R. W. Turner, a piano tuner, employed by the Westmorland Education Committee, was standing by him, when the head of the cylinder shot across the garage, hit the back of the van and the mid-guard of a car, and rebounded on to Mr. Turner, cracking the bones of his right leg, and severing an artery. Flesh was scored from the back of the employee's hand.

The cylinder itself went in the opposite direction, narrowly missing another employee who was operating a petrol pump and a doctor whose car was being supplied. It hit the petrol pump, severed a two-inch pipe, and damaged the doctor's car.

Dr. Murray, of Great Ayton (York.), whose car was at the petrol pump, attended to Mr. Turner, who was removed to Kendal Hospital.

BULLET HITS GIRL.
Bridlington Police Making Search in Strange Case.

Bridlington police are investigating the case of a servant girl who was struck on the head with a missile and stunned in a back garden in Marton Road.

The girl is Amy Knaggs (20), employed as a domestic servant by Mrs. W. S. Webster, of North Close, Marton Road. While beating carpets in the garden she was struck on the left forehead by a lead missile weighing nearly an ounce. She was stunned, and the wound bled.

Recovering, she found a bullet at her feet, and at once told the gardener, who searched the lanes without result.

The police are making investigations. It is thought the missile may have been shot from a catapult over a 7ft. wall.

A LEYBURN WEDDING.
 The wedding took place at Leyburn Methodist Chapel, on Saturday, of Mr. James Herbert Wardman, second son of Mr. and Mrs. T. Wardman, of Grove Square, Leyburn, and Miss Florence Edna McCabe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. McCabe, of Northallerton. The circuit minister, the Rev. J. J. Mee, officiated.

Given away by her father, the bride wore a gown of pale blue satin, with a black picture hat and shoes to match, and carried a bouquet of cream roses.

MAN FROM DARTMOOR.
 A man who was at Dartmoor at the time of the military and navy out on licence made a pathetic plea to the Bridlington magistrates on Saturday, when sentenced to two months' hard labour for failing to report while a convict under licence.

The man, George Turner, ship's cook, no fixed abode, said his licence would be forfeited if sent to prison.

The Chairman (Captain T. L. Wickham-Boytton) was advised that any sentence imposed will not carry with it the forfeiture of the licence.

STOKESLEY RURAL COUNCIL.
 Major R. B. Turton, Kildale Hall, was re-elected chairman of Stokesley Rural Council, on Saturday. A vote of thanks was passed to Sir William Fawcett, Stainton Crange, who is relinquishing the position of Clerk, for his services to the Council over a period of 14 years. Sir William said there were only three members left, including the chairman, who were on the Council 14 years ago.

SAILOR SAVES DROWNING BOY.
 Frank Downe, a member of the crew of the steamship Kernerover, lying at Bridlington, dived off the deck into the harbour, on Saturday, and saved a seven-year-old boy from drowning. The boy was Norman Readhead, of Bow Street, who while walking across rowing boats, missed his footing and fell into the water.

PENNIES FOR MINSTER MUSIC.

"We Live in an Ugly Age."

From Our Own Correspondent.
YORK, Saturday.
 The inadequacy of the financial support given to the Dean and Chapter of York, in the presentation of great musical works at York Minster, was the subject of strong comments by the Dean and the Master of the Music at the annual speech day of the Minster choir school to-day.

The Dean (the Very Rev. H. N. Bate) presided, and the prizes were distributed by General Sir Alexander Wardrop, G.O.C.-in-C., the Northern Command.

Sir Edward Balfour, Master of the Music, paid a tribute to the loyal way in which the songmen and chorists supported him. Choirs, he said, were supposed to be riddled with jealousy, but they had nothing of that sort at York; they were a happy family.

Sir Edward pointed out that when an augmented choir had taken endless pains to sing a great work in the Minster, and the public had the opportunity of hearing the Halle Orchestra not only play the accompaniments, but a beautiful symphony as well, the nave was only partially filled, and the Dean and Chapter were saddled with a deficiency of over £100.

AN "UGLY AGE."
 "I cannot understand it," he said. "It is a sad thing that people seem unable to appreciate music."

"We live in an ugly age. We musicians are struggling against great odds to bring back that appreciation."

"Even if you are not yourselves very musical you ought to do your best to stop that slump and lack of appreciation of things musical."

He added that he thought they were turning the corner and that audiences were better. Still, they had a long way to go to make up the difference between what things were like twenty years ago and to-day.

581 PENNIES.
 The Dean of York said they could not get into the minds of the people who lived in and near a cathedral city that when they listened to the presentation of a great work in a cathedral they were doing something different from attending a service at which their maximum contribution would be threepence.

"I hate the expression 'a silver collection,'" he said. "It always seems a nasty thing to say to people who come to the church. But when we have 581 penny pieces, which represented contributions at the Passion music the other day, it is a little disheartening."

Boy of Fourteen Flies Solo.

From Our Correspondent.
EPPING (Essex), Sunday.
 A fourteen and a half year old boy flew solo at Abridge (Essex) aerodrome, to-day. He had had only five hours' instruction from Flying Officer O. H. Snelling, of the East Anglian Aero Club, and his achievement is believed to be a record.

The boy, Ovid Victor Ottley, of Crescent Road, Alexandra Park, London, had his first flight on March 25.

His father, Mr. Leonard Ottley, was among a large crowd who saw him take off and complete a five minutes' flight successfully, but his mother was so affected by the strain that she could not watch the flight, and had to go into the club house until it was over.

When Joan Hughes, a fifteen-year-old Loughton girl, flew solo at the club about two months ago, she was believed to be the youngest flier in the country.

Sir Frederick Palmer, the engineer, died from pneumonia at his Surrey home, Crowhurst Place, Lingfield, on Saturday, aged 72.

Ovaltine

For Glorious Health and Boundless Energy

THERE are many definite reasons why delicious 'Ovaltine' is without equal for giving and maintaining robust health and abundant energy.

'Ovaltine' is an original product, scientifically prepared by exclusive processes from the highest qualities of malt, milk and eggs. These ingredients are combined in the proportions necessary to form a perfectly balanced food, complete in the nutritive elements required for creating rich reserves of nervous vitality, and for maintaining a high standard of physical fitness.

For quality and value 'Ovaltine' stands in a class by itself. Although imitations are made to look like 'Ovaltine', there are extremely important differences.

'Ovaltine' does not contain any Household Sugar. Furthermore, it does not contain Starch. Nor does it contain Chocolate, or a large percentage of Cocoa.

Because of its supreme health-giving properties, 'Ovaltine' is the most widely used food beverage in the world. Quality always tells—insist on 'Ovaltine'.
