I comment to support this planning application. As a frequent visitor to Robin Hoods Bay, particularly this beautiful small promenade, I have often wondered why there isn't such a facility in existence already, something that offers simple refreshment that is inconspicuous to this beautiful part of the coastline. I have looked at the plans with interest and believe that this would blend yet offer a very welcome facility, that I for sure would use. The design is very interesting too and much more fitting than I imagined when hearing about this plan: natural wood and an interesting design that will blend well into the area, yet offer so much to visitors like myself who never wants to leave this particular part of the coastline.
