Good evening Mrs Saunders,

I've attached four styles of lodges

Lodge type 1 – is the one and half storey lodge we first submitted and was the one everyone seemed to like and we would like to go with for all the end on plots. The internal layout shows four bedrooms but in reality I think one upstairs and two down would be the design we would probably go with

Lodge type 1 single storey – same as above but without the additional attic space area

Side on lodge type 1 – an example of the side on design

Side on lodge type 2 – another example of the side on lodge

We have some variations on these side on lodges with a little more glass area on the side and without the overhang (type 2) which blocks out the light as we discussed previously but as yet we haven't finalised these designs

I hope that provides enough information but if anything specific or detailed is needed please let me know

Thanks

Kieran
